It is hard to believe that it is already time to register for the spring courses. We will open the registration process beginning Monday November 18th. Registration for the spring semester will close on January 10th, 2014. Students may register by going to the following link:

http://www.mtmc.edu/academics/dual_credit.aspx

Unfortunately we will no longer be able to accept late registrations for our courses. Federal guidelines require us to report the number of students we have registered on a specific date. Late registrations interfere with our federal reporting process. So, to help all students register well before the deadline of January 18th, I send an email to you several times during the registration period to help remind everyone of the deadlines.

If students are waiting to register late for payment reasons, please let them know that payment plans can be arranged through the bursar's office. Information about payment options are found at the following link:
